THE WOMAN OF SAMARIA AND HER DIVINE TEACHER.—John iv.—9, 10.

III. THE INSTRUCTION COMMUNICATED.
1. She is convicted of Sin.—The conversation respecting the living water so far excited her curiosity, as to lead her to request that it might be given to her, that she might not have to come to draw water at the well. The Saviour, perceiving her ignorance, and wishing to communicate instruction, said, "Go, call thy husband, and come hither." He said this that he might furnish himself with an opportunity of revealing to her her true character. And she replied, "I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband; for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thine husband: in that saidst thou truly." She admitted the truthfulness of the assertion, replying, "Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet." Her sins were then exposed, and she stood convicted in her own conscience. Her whole past life seemed to be presented before her—hence the confession. "He told me all that ever I did." It is not stated whether she had lost her five husbands by death, or she had been divorced from them; but enough is said to convince her that all her profession of being a daughter of "Father Jacob" is of no avail, so long as she is living in open violation of God's law. And let us remember that he is equally acquainted with our desires, words, and actions. "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight; but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do." If we are strangers to conviction, we are unacquainted with forgiveness. Conviction precedes conversion. "I said I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin." In order to obtain the pardoning mercy of God, we must be deeply penitent—make full confession, and beseech the Lord to save us. Have we obtained pardon through believing? Are we deeply humbled before God on account of our former transgressions? Do we ascribe our deliverance to his free, boundless mercy? Or, are we still impenitent, hushed in carnal security, and slumbering on the brink of perdition? Let us bear in mind a testing day is approaching, and sooner or later our sin will find us out.

2. She is made acquainted with the Saviour.—Jesus revealed himself to her—as the gift of God—the expected Messiah—and the dispenser of spiritual supplies.
(1.) As the Gift of God.—"If thou knewest the gift of God, &c." Jesus was God's gift to man. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." How great the gift! It surpasseth all human expression. How unparalleled the circumstances under which he was given! It was not a gift to some special friends, but bestowed on his most inveterate enemies: "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son, that he should give life unto us." Such a gift might well excite the astonishment of angelic spirits. The Apostle Paul might well exclaim, in adoring gratitude, "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift."
(2.) As the expected Messiah.—"The woman saith unto him, I know that Messiah cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things." Jesus saith unto her, "I that speak unto thee am he." It is rather remarkable that she revealed himself so clearly to this woman when he had partly concealed his real character to persons of his own nation. It was placing her, if not in superior, at least in equal circumstances with his own kindred. She was favored with a personal interview with the long-promised Messiah, and heard the word of life from his own lips. Many had ardently looked and longed for such an interview, but died without the gratification. But "when the fullness of time was come, God sent forth his Son," which signifies the Anointed One. Kings, priests, and prophets, under the Mosaic dispensation, were anointed when installed into their respective offices. This was emblematic of the communication of the gifts and graces of the Holy Spirit. Jesus may emphatically be called "The Anointed One"—being dignified by holding the three offices—the royal, sacerdotal, and prophetic. He was not anointed with the oil used in consecrating others, but with the anointing of the Spirit of grace was poured upon him "without measure" by the hand of God the Father. He is King in Zion—giving laws, appointing ordinances, and reigning in the hearts of his subjects. He is the priest—offering sacrifice, expiating guilt, and making intercession in man's behalf. You have probably read or heard of Amnias who appeared as an advocate for his brother, when he was accused and about to be condemned to die. Amnias had lost one arm in the service of his country, and had secured great benefits to the Commonwealth. When his brother was brought into Court, and arraigned at the bar of justice, Amnias entered. He said nothing, but lifted up the stump of his arm, which he moved the Court that immediately they acquitted his brother. And does not Jesus exhibit his wounds as he intercedes before the Court above? St. John says, "I beheld, and lo! in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain." He is also the prophet—to give instruction. As the woman remarked, "When he is come, he will tell us all things." He soon placed before her the fulfylling of the Samaritan ritual, and also the abrogation of the ceremonial worship of the Jews, stating, "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." To establish purity of worship, was an undertaking worthy of himself, as the Great Teacher, to accomplish. All places were henceforth to be alike sacred. "Spirit and truth"—the great essentials—being required to no people, nation, or country. The heart of the pious is the temple where Jehovah engaged to dwell. "The temple of God is holy," says the Apostle, "which temple are ye." What privilege to live under the dispensation of the Spirit!

3. As the dispenser of spiritual supplies.

4. As the dispenser of spiritual supplies.

5. As the dispenser of spiritual supplies.

6. As the dispenser of spiritual supplies.

7. As the dispenser of spiritual supplies.

"Whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life." Water is here spoken of as emblematical of the Holy Spirit. As water refreshes the weary traveller, so does the Holy Spirit cheer and invigorate the travellers to Zion. As water is of a cleansing, purifying nature, so does the Holy Spirit purify the soul from all impure desires and unholy affections. Such is the import of the promise, "Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols will I cleanse you." As water fertilizes the parched earth and is essential to its fruitfulness, so does the Holy Spirit enable the believer to bear the fruit of holiness to God's honor and praise. "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance." These fruits are essential to the Christian character. The Holy Spirit is also compared to "a well of water" bubbling up—ever flowing. What a beautiful ideal! An unexhausted spring of happiness! What an amplitude of grace is the privilege of the sanctified soul! How great the privileges of the true Christian! The Holy Spirit shall abide within him—"helping his infirmities;" of ignorance, by renewing his mind;—of doubt, by implanting in his soul a good hope through grace; of coldness, by kindling the flame of devotion. He "maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered."—By breathing into our souls earnest longings after holiness and heaven. "Because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father." Dear reader, are you blessed with an hungering and thirsting after God? Do you cry out with the Psalmist, "As the hart panteth after the water-brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God?" Or, are you a stranger to the indwelling, sin-killing, soul-reviving, prayer-inspiring, heaven-elevating influence of the Holy Spirit? You need not remain strangers any longer. "The Spirit and the Bride say, Come. And let him that is athirst, Come. And whosoever will let him take the water of life freely."

TAKE
SIMMONS'
LIVER
REGULATOR.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and it is attended by rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are constipated, sometimes attended with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensations of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, dizziness, and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.

BALTO. LOCK HOSPITAL.
DR. JOHNSTON,
Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Efficacious Remedy in the world for all

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.
Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Exaltation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dizziness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to the victim than the stings of the Syren, or the Mariner of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

YOUNG MEN.
Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or walked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency), Nervous Excitability, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. m-y religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Owing to persons not apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, w-o that understand the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by those indulging in the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.
